GOVERNMENT NOTICES

Community Development

Notice of Intention to Designate a Provincial Historic Resource

(Historical Resources Act)

File: Des. 2085

Notice is hereby given that sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Community Development intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Grande Cache Dinosaur Tracksite, together with the land legally described as per:

Schedule A, attached and municipally located near Grande Cache, in the MD of Greenview No. 16, Alberta be designated as a PROVINCIAL HISTORIC RESOURCE under Section 20 of the HISTORICAL RESOURCES ACT, R.S.A. 2000 C. H-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The significance of the Grande Cache Dinosaur Tracksite lies in its representation of information about dinosaur biology and behaviour not available from skeletal remains. Through the study of dinosaur trackways we can learn how dinosaurs moved, how they interacted with their environment and with other dinosaurs.

The Grande Cache dinosaur tracks, which mainly occur as natural moulds, were first discovered during the late 1980's by staff at the former Smoky River Coal Mine as coal-mining operations exposed the rocks in which the tracks were preserved. In total, over 20 tracksites have been discovered within the coal mine. The trackways are all located on steeply angled (between 40° and 60°) footwalls exposed during open pit mining activities. Some of the footwalls are over 60 meters high and nearly a kilometer long.

The Grande Cache dinosaur tracks are known from the Lower Cretaceous Gladstone and Gates formations (approximately 90 mya). The only other fossil-bearing deposit of this age in Alberta is located in the Crowsnest Pass and to date it has only yielded a small amount of unidentifiable dinosaur bone. The Grande Cache dinosaur tracks were made by several species of dinosaurs, including several types of theropods (meat-eating dinosaurs), ankylosaurs (armoured dinosaurs) and several species of birds. Estimates suggest that there are well over 10,000 footprints (in fact, over 10,000 footprints have been counted at the W3 Main Site alone) within the mine site. This diversity and abundance is not seen elsewhere in Canada and is rivaled by only a few sites around the world.

The Grande Cache Dinosaur Tracksite allows us to compare the Lower Cretaceous faunas of this area with those in other parts of the world. Ankylosaurs were the most common dinosaur in the Grande Cache area during this period. Footprint sites in Utah demonstrate that sauropods (which are not known from the Grande Cache area) dominated the Lower Cretaceous environments. The Peace River Canyon appears to have had a very similar dinosaur fauna to Grande Cache except that the dominant dinosaur track maker in the Peace River Canyon, ornithomimids (bipedal, plant-eaters), are not known from the Grande Cache area. This evidence has allowed researchers to divide North America into three faunal zones, each based on a unique assemblage of dinosaurs. Therefore, many experts consider this site to be one of the most important dinosaur tracksites in the world.

There is also an abundance of fossilized plant material (petrified stumps, log impressions and leaf impressions) preserved at several of the sites (both as backfill and in situ) and at one site (9 Mine Lower East Limb Pit) there is a deposit containing the remains of a rare bivalve. Not only do these fossils tell us about the environment in which the dinosaurs lived, but also provide information on fossils from an otherwise poorly represented time in Alberta's pre-history.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.

Dated this 9th day of January, A.D. 2006.

Gary G. Mar, Minister.
