GOVERNMENT NOTICES

Community Development

Notice of Intention to Designate a Provincial Historic Resource

(Historical Resources Act)

File: Des. 2176

Notice is hereby given that sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Community Development intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Canadian National Railway (CNR) Station, together with the land legally described as:

DESCRIPTIVE PLAN 012 3415
LOT 1
Excepting thereout all mines and minerals.

and municipally located at 4922-52 Avenue in Vegreville, Alberta be designated as a PROVINCIAL HISTORIC RESOURCE under Section 20 of the HISTORICAL RESOURCES ACT, R.S.A. 2000 C. H-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The heritage value of the Canadian National Railway (CNR) Station building lies chiefly in its aesthetic and architectural significance as an example of standard plan railway station design, as well as for its symbolic significance in terms of the railway's association with the settlement and development of Alberta.

Completed in 1930 according to the CNR's plan 100-225, the CNR Station replaced an older station, built in 1906, and is the single remaining example of that station plan in Alberta. The new station included several features that the original station did not, such as an integral freight shed, porte cochere, as well as four (or five) separate areas on the ground floor: waiting room, ticket and express office, express room, and separate men's and ladies' washrooms. The waiting room was subdivided into compartments, one serving as a ladies waiting room, and another as a smoking room. This five part arrangement of the public space is a pragmatic use of the space at hand, and embodies advances in railroad station design typical of its period.

The CNR Station building symbolically represents many issues important to the early development of the province, specifically settlement and early town life. The station's construction during the heyday of the age of the railroad is clear since this station was built in an effort to compete with the Canadian Pacific Railway (C.P.R.), which was building a branch line in the region at the same time. The CNR Station building stands as a prominent landmark in the region as a testimony to these themes.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.

Dated this 12th day of July, A.D. 2006.
