Notice of Adjustment to the Minor Injury Amount

(Insurance Act)

Pursuant to the Minor Injury Regulation, the maximum amount awarded for minor injuries is adjusted to $4,339 and is applicable to minor injuries caused in motor vehicle accidents occurring on or after January 1, 2008. The following Appendix sets out the method of calculating the adjustment to the minor injury amount.

Dated at Edmonton this 30th day of November, 2007.

Dennis Gartner
Superintendent of Insurance.

Ref: Insurance Act
Minor Injury Regulation

APPENDIX

The maximum amount recoverable as damages for non-pecuniary losses for all minor injuries sustained by a claimant as a result of a motor vehicle accident occurring during the 2008 calendar year is $4,339.

This amount is based on the annual change in the Alberta Consumer Price Index (CPI), and is calculated using the following formulas:

- (a) The annual change in the Alberta CPI was calculated to one-tenth of a percentage point using the formula $X = (A-B) / B$ where:

X is the annual change in the Alberta CPI;

A is the sum of the 12 individual monthly CPI indexes for the 12-month period ending on September 30, 2007;

B is the sum of the 12 individual monthly CPI for the 12-month period ending on September 30, 2006.

- (b) The result in (a) is multiplied by the 2007 minor injury amount and rounded to the nearest whole dollar to derive the increase in the minor injury amount for 2008.
- (c) The increase in (b) is added to the 2007 minor injury amount and rounded to the nearest whole dollar to establish the 2008 minor injury amount.

The following data was used in the calculation:

Month	Alberta Consumer Price Index	Month	Alberta Consumer Price Index
October-05	109.7	October-06	113.0
November-05	109.6	November-06	113.7
December-05	109.0	December-06	114.2
January-06	110.4	January-07	114.7
February-06	109.7	February-07	115.0
March-06	110.3	March-07	116.4
April-06	111.4	April-07	117.5
May-06	112.2	May-07	117.8
June-06	111.8	June-07	118.8
July-06	113.4	July-07	119.1
August-06	113.9	August-07	119.3
September-06	114.1	September-07	119.4
Summation (B)	1335.5	Summation (A)	1398.9
2005 basket, monthly (2002=100) Note: Starting in May 2007 the monthly amount used by Statistics Canada was rebased to reflect 2002=100 rather than the previous measure of 1992=100. This rebasing did not change the overall percentage of 3.6% used to calculate the 2007 amount, but some of the table values did change and that change is reflected above.

Based on the above, the annual change in the Alberta CPI, rounded to 1/10th of a percentage point, is 0.047 or 4.7%. The increase in the minor injury amount for 2008 is 4.7% of the 2007 minor injury amount of $4,144 rounded to the nearest whole dollar, or $195. Accordingly, the 2008 minor injury amount is set at $4,339.

Notice of Intention to Designate a Provincial Historic Resource

(Historical Resources Act)

File: Des. 1330

Notice is hereby given that sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Tourism, Parks, Recreation and Culture intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Canadian Northern Railway Station, together with the land legally described as:

PLAN 5614AF
BLOCK A
EXCEPTING THEREOUT:

	HECTARES	(ACRES) MORE OR LESS
A) PLAN 0126285 - SUBDIVISION (AS TO SURFACE ONLY)	0.824	2.04

EXCEPTING THEREOUT ALL COAL AND PETROLEUM

and municipally located on Railway Avenue in Meeting Creek, Alberta be designated as a PROVINCIAL HISTORIC RESOURCE under Section 20 of the HISTORICAL RESOURCES ACT, R.S.A. 2000 C. H-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The heritage value of the Canadian Northern Railway (CNoR) Station lies in its representation of typical, small-town Alberta railway station architecture from the early twentieth century. The station also possesses significant symbolic value as an emblem of the central role of railways in opening the province to settlement and agriculture.

In 1909, the Premier of Alberta, Alexander Rutherford, offered major railway companies bond guarantees to expand the province's transportation network in order to further settlement and development. The CNoR responded enthusiastically to the Premier's call, laying down new track throughout Alberta. In 1911, this company built a line between Camrose and Stettler. The Meeting Creek settlement was initially located five miles east of the new track and depot; it was relocated in order to be included in the new townsite. Though Meeting Creek's proximity to larger regional settlements at Camrose, Donalda, and Bashaw prevented it from becoming an agricultural and commercial centre, its connection to the railway nonetheless enabled it to develop into a robust farming community, boasting three grain elevators and all the requisite settlement services. With the amalgamation of the CNoR into Canadian National Railways (CNR) in the late 1910s, many smaller branch lines closed, though the Meeting Creek station continued to operate until the 1960s, when improved highway infrastructure and services rendered the depot obsolete.

The CNoR Station erected at Meeting Creek in 1913 was constructed according to Plan 100-29, the most common design for CNoR Third Class depots built between 1907 and 1914. More than 300 of these stations were constructed throughout Canada and in Minnesota; 36 are recorded to have been built in Alberta, and only 4 have been confirmed extant in 2006. Designed by the influential architect, Ralph Benjamin Pratt, this plan was distinguished by its high hipped roof with gabled dormers - an architectural element that Pratt effectively developed into an instantly recognizable trademark of CNoR stations. The interior featured an office, waiting room, freight shed, and residence for the station agent. The CNoR Station at Meeting Creek was extensively restored in 1988 to reflect the appearance of the station between 1940 and 1950.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.

Dated this 1st day of November, A.D. 2007.

Bill Werry, Assistant Deputy Minister.
