Culture and Community Spirit

Notice of Intent to Designate a Provincial Historic Resource

(Historical Resources Act)

File: Des. 1334

Notice is hereby given that sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Culture and Community Spirit intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Shilo School, together with the land legally described as:

Meridian 5, Range 5, Township 36, Section 22,
all that portion of the south west quarter described as follows: commencing at the south west corner of the said quarter section thence northerly along the west boundary thereof 313 feet thence easterly and parallel to the south boundary of the said quarter 417 feet; thence southerly and parallel to the said west boundary to the said south boundary; thence westerly along the said south boundary to the point of commencement containing 1.21 hectares (3 acres) more or less excepting thereout 0.049 hectare (0.12 acre) more or less shown on road plan 3664px excepting thereout all mines and minerals and municipally located in Clearwater County, Alberta be designated as a Provincial Historic Resource under section 20 of the Historical Resources Act, RSA 2000 cH-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The heritage value of the Shilo School lies in its identity as an excellent example of a one-room schoolhouse, a once common but now increasingly rare type of building in rural Alberta. It also has significance for its distinctive classical style of architecture.

In Alberta, schools were built by local school districts. School districts were established once a minimum number of ratepayers and children became resident in an area. These districts were small, typically measuring four square miles in area (approximately 10 square kilometres). Somewhere close to the centre of the district, at least one acre of level, well-drained and cleared land had to be acquired for use as a schoolyard upon which a building for dedicated use as a schoolhouse had to be constructed. In 1910, Alberta regulations required that schools have at least 15 square feet of space per student, 11 foot ceilings, porches and/or cloakrooms. Large windows were to be located to the students' left side. A sixty square foot blackboard was to be mounted at the front of the room and additional blackboards could be installed on the wall opposite the windows. Although the Department of Education offered a series of standard plans that met these guidelines, some districts elected to build schools based on their own design. One room schoolhouses were a common feature throughout rural Alberta. By the end of 1910, there were 1,501 school districts in Alberta operating 1,195 schools and 1,610 classrooms, most of which were rural schools consisting of only one room.

The Shilo School District No. 2188 was erected on May 26, 1910, one of 251 established that year. Land was acquired on the southwest quarter of Section 22, Township 36, Range 5, west of the Fifth Meridian and in 1910, the district borrowed $800.00 for the construction of and furnishing of a schoolhouse. An additional $400.00 was borrowed in 1911 for more furnishings and to dig a well on the school grounds. The schoolhouse is a simple, rectangular structure with a wood shingle-clad hip roof. Three tall, rectangular, double-hung windows are located on the west side and two similar windows flank the front entry vestibule on the south side. The vestibule contains an entryway with transom and a shingle-clad gable end. The building is devoid of decoration except a band of scroll-saw cut wood strips and a band of shingles arranged to resemble dentils where the exterior walls meet the soffits. These elements, coupled with the vestibule gable-end, which resembles a pediment, gives the unassuming schoolhouse a vaguely temple-like or Classical appearance. The interior of the building consists of one large room with a wood strip floor and tongue-and-groove clad ceiling. The walls of the vestibule and main room are clad in horizontal tongue-and-groove, with vertical tongue and groove wainscoting in the main room. A blackboard with a molded wood frame and chalk ledge is mounted on the north wall and built in cabinetry and shelving is located throughout the room and vestibule. A wood stove, mounted on a raised metal platform and connected to a brick chimney, is situated in the southeast corner of the room.

Alberta's one-room schoolhouses entered a long decline starting in the late-1930s when Alberta began to consolidate school districts in an effort to improve educational opportunities and reduce costs. In 1938, the Shilo School District, along with 74 others, was consolidated into the Rocky Mountain School Division No. 15. The school remained in use until 1952, when it was closed and its students bussed to a larger school in Caroline. The Shilo schoolhouse was then sold and used by various community groups and events. Despite the change in use, the building has retained considerable historical integrity and continues to communicate its rural schoolhouse past.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.

File: Des. 1966

Notice is hereby given that sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Culture and Community Spirit intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Krause Milling Company Grain Elevator and Flour Mill Site Complex, together with the land legally described as:

all that portion of the north west quarter of Section thirty two (32), Township fifty eight (58), Range twenty (20), west of the fourth meridian, described as follows: commencing at a point on the north easterly limit of first street east as shown on subdivision plan 3467ce the said point being one hundred and thirty five (135) feet northerly measured along the said limit from the northerly limit of railway avenue as shown on said plan, thence north easterly at right angles to the said north east limit, three hundred and twenty three (323) feet; thence north westerly and parallel to the said limit of first street east one hundred and thirty five (135) feet; thence south westerly at right angles to the said north east limit to a point therein, thence south easterly along the said limit to the point of commencement, containing 0.405 hectares more or less.

excepting thereout all mines and minerals and municipally located in the County of Thorhild No. 7, Alberta be designated as a Provincial Historic Resource under section 20 of the Historical Resources Act, RSA 2000 cH-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The Krause Milling Company Grain Elevator and Flour Mill Site Complex is significant as an example of the 1920s grain elevators constructed on the Canadian National Railway's (C.N.R.'s) branch lines. It is unique in that it was built to accompany a flour mill (demolished in 1959) that, along with the Radway Creamery, brought much regional business to the town.

By 1932 Radway boasted five grain elevators. The 1929 Krause elevator is distinctive in that it, with the mill, it served for processing grain locally, particularly after the fall in prices during the Depression made exporting grain east less profitable. In addition, this elevator was the only one representing individual family enterprise on the local level rather than commercial chain operations, though it was later sold to the International Grain Company and then to the United Grain Growers, who operated it until 1996.

The elevator represents what has been called the prairie vernacular industrial style, a building designed for grading, weighing, storing and shipping grain. The elevator depends on the vertical conveyor belt that carries grain to the top of the elevator and uses gravity to distribute it to rail cars or trucks. The elevator retains a high degree of integrity, and is an excellent example of traditional "crib" construction. As the only elevator remaining from the row of five, it is a significant regional landmark.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.
