Culture

Notice of Intent to Designate a Provincial Historic Resource

(Historical Resources Act)

File: Des. 892

Notice is hereby given that sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Culture intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Taber Courthouse, together with the land legally described as:

Plan 5638L
Block 15
Lots 12 to 14 Inclusive
Excepting Thereout all Mines and Minerals
And the Right to Work the Same and municipally located at 4902 – 53 Street in Taber, Alberta be designated as a Provincial Historic Resource under section 20 of the Historical Resources Act, RSA 2000 cH-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The heritage value of the Taber Courthouse lies in its physical representation of the provincial judicial system established at the sub-judicial district level. It is also significant for its courthouse architecture.

In 1907, two years after Alberta gained provincial status, the provincial government passed legislation to replace the old North West Territorial court system. During the territorial period, courthouses had functioned in Fort Macleod, Calgary and Edmonton. The new provincial system established judicial districts in Calgary, Edmonton, Macleod, Lethbridge and Wetaskiwin. Because of Alberta's rapid growth in its early years, the Province also initiated the creation of some sub-judicial districts, one being Taber.

Taber had no courthouse when it was declared a sub-judicial district of Lethbridge in 1914. In 1917, the Town donated land, and the Province announced that it would construct a courthouse, a facility that would also house the newly formed Alberta Provincial Police detachment earmarked for Taber. Plans for the courthouse were produced by R. P. Blakey, the Provincial Architect; the Medicine Hat contracting firm of Hotson and Depew was awarded the contract in May 1918; and judicial and police staff were able to move into the new facility in November.

Blakey's single storey design called for an entrance hall, the court room, offices and a vault on the main floor, and it placed the cells, guard room, storage, heating and another vault in the basement. Blakey designed the Taber Courthouse with the utmost utility in mind, and his design set a precedent for other courthouses in smaller communities constructed prior to World War II, as evidenced by those built in Blairmore, Grande Prairie and Hanna during the 1920s. The Taber Courthouse spaces designed for the police served both the Alberta Provincial Police and later the R.C.M.P. When Taber lost sub-judicial district status in 1936, the courtroom continued to be used by the District Court, and its office spaces accommodated other provincial departments, the school district and eventually the Town of Taber, the building becoming the town hall after purchase by the Town in 1953.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.

It is therefore considered that the preservation and protection of the resource is in the public interest.
