Culture and Tourism

Notice of Intention to Designate a Provincial Historic Resource

(Historical Resources Act)

File: Des. 2356

Notice is hereby given that no less than sixty days from the date of service of this Notice and its publication in the Alberta Gazette, the Minister of Culture and Tourism intends to make an Order that the site known as the:

Trend House, together with the land legally described as:

Plan 544GQ
Block 23
Lot 9
Excepting Thereout All Mines and Minerals and municipally located at in Calgary, Alberta be designated as a Provincial Historic Resource under Section 20 of the Historical Resources Act, RSA 2000 cH-9.

The reasons for the designation are as follows: The heritage value of the Trend House lies in its excellent representation of mid-20th century Alberta residential architecture in the Modern style and its association with prominent Alberta architect Peter Leitch Rule, of the Alberta architectural firm Rule, Wynn and Rule.

The Trend House, constructed in 1953-1954, is an excellent example of a modest mid-century Modern single-family home that foreshadows design elements which later became common in Alberta. Though it appeared at the intersection between the boxy one-and-one-half storey houses common in Alberta immediately after World War II and the ranch type bungalows that became popular in the late 1950s, the Trend House incorporates features seen a decade later in 1960s split-level houses. Ideas of contemporary living typical of the Modern style are apparent in the Trend House in its open-plan layout, the technological innovation in its remote control electrical system, and the forward-thinking aesthetics evident in its form, massing, materials and interior decoration. The high level of design integrity and original materials make the Trend House an excellent example of mid-century Modern design in Alberta.

The Trend House is an excellent example of the work of architect Peter Leitch Rule (1913-1964), a principal in one of Alberta's most notable and longest-operating architectural firms, Rule, Wynn and Rule. The firm was known for producing cutting-edge Modern style works, such as the AGT Building (1953) in Edmonton and the Elveden Centre (1959-1964) in Calgary. The Trend House is a prime example of contemporary taste in residential architectural design as featured in architectural journals and building trades magazines of the day. It also reflects prevalent social ideas in its emphasis on technological innovation and modern materials. These aspects of the Trend House design were in perfect harmony with the aims of the group of British Columbia wood industry associations that commissioned the house to promote their products. Peter Rule's forward-thinking design for the Trend House provided an ideal means not only to showcase B.C. woods, but to demonstrate his skill as an architect in creating an elegant design that was both contemporary and affordable.

Any person who wishes to make a representation regarding the proposed designation may do so by submitting a written request to Matthew Wangler, Executive Director, Alberta Historical Resources Foundation, 8820 – 112th Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T6G 2P8. Any such request must be made within 30 days of the publication of this notice. At the end of the 30 day period, the Foundation will fix a date for the hearing of representations and will notify all those who have advised of their intention to make representations. On the date fixed, the Foundation will hear representations from all parties who have expressed an interest in doing so.

Dated this 11th day of October , A.D. 2017.
